SUNDAY REFLECTION:

Christ is our peace.

The Gospel message is one of peace. Wherever we go, we are to bring the peace of Christ with us but we can only do this when we have learnt to suffer like him. Then we will need an entirely new life and peace will flow like a river from us to everyone around us.

POPE'S INTENTIONS FOR JULY:

For the elderly. We pray for the elderly, who represent the roots and memory of a people; may their experience and wisdom help young people to look towards the future with hope and responsibility. See also <https://thepopevideo.org/>

SAINTS OF THE WEEK: Friday: St Oliver Plunkett (1625 – 81) Archbishop and Primate of all Ireland. Born of well to do Anglo-Norman stock, he was educated first in Dublin and then in Rome. Because of the anti-Catholic wars in Ireland, he was unable to return there and stayed in Rome where he became a professor. In 1669 he was appointed Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of all Ireland, to which he finally returned in 1670. He operated mainly in the Dublin area and was a successful pastor for some years. In the wake of the Popish Plot in 1678, however, he was embroiled in events beyond his control and charged with fomenting rebellion. His first trial in Dublin collapsed as did his second in Westminster but he was finally found guilty in a rigged trial despite general acceptance (even by the King) of his innocence. Politically it was dangerous to support him and he was executed at Tyburn in 1681. His head is in Drogheda in Ireland and his body at Downside Abbey in Somerset.
